

Cornwall Training Hub

Facilitator Workforce

Developing facilitators. Supporting learning.
Strengthening primary care.

Cornwall Training Hub is expanding its primary care facilitator workforce and is inviting expressions of interest from clinicians and experienced healthcare professionals who would like to support workforce development across primary care.

We are looking for individuals with an interest in education, mentorship, service improvement and clinical leadership to contribute to Training Hub programmes and initiatives.

Facilitators may support activity such as:

- Delivering or supporting teaching and training sessions
- Coaching or mentoring healthcare professionals
- Supporting clinical leadership, service development and redesign
- Audit and quality improvement activity
- Facilitating or contributing to Communities of Practice

Successful applicants can join the Cornwall Training Hub staff bank, contributing to initiatives on a flexible basis alongside existing clinical roles.

Facilitators will also be able to access support through the Primary Care Facilitator Workforce Development Framework (currently in development) to help build skills in education, facilitation, mentorship and clinical leadership.
